Dos Hermanas is a Spanish city 15 km south of Seville in Andalusia, with a population of 130,000.

The Dos Hermanas tournament was remarkably growing over the years, and then slightly declining, that's why in the survey above, the category (based on Elo average of the players) is indicated, too.

The Festival did sometimes offer another minor closed tournament with GM, IM and local players mixed or / and rapid, blitz – and Internet chess activities! Often combined at Dos Hermanas with an Open tournament (not to mix with Sevilla Open!)

Dos Hermanas, the world's best online blitz chess tournament:

In addition, Dos Hermanas has always been considered the biggest and strongest online blitz tournament in the world - and fittingly, the 11th Dos Hermanas online tournament in 2010, hosted exclusively on www.chessclub.com, was won in convincing style by arguably the strongest and best online blitz player in the world today: GM Hikaru Nakamura of USA.

Fan favorite Nakamura (Smallville) beat GM Simonian Hrair (EREBUNI), IM Federico Perez Ponsa (Federicov), GM Rodrigo Vasquez Schroeder (Kastor), and then GM Yaroslav Zinchenko (MEGAYARICK) in the final to take the title and $2,700 first prize.

DOS HERMANAS 1989-2008

Jan van Reek (1945 – 2015, founder of www.endgame.nl, which is no longer available)

Dos Hermanas ('two sisters') is situated near Sevilla. A series of annual chess contests started in the spring of 1989. GM Julian Hodgson won the inaugural edition. It became a major event in 1992, and a supertournament in 1995, 1996, 1997, and 1999 (no tournaments in 1998, 2000, 2002, 2004, 2006, and 2007).

Nine out of the Elo top ten ranked players (!) started from 21 v until 1 vi 1996 in Hotel La Motilla. Kramnik won on the Sonneborn-Berger score. Topalov joined the lead in points. Anand and Kasparov shared the third place. Another all-time supertournament happened in 1999 (10th Jubilee edition), Adams took clear first, surpassing three World Champions.

Major tournaments followed in 2001, 2003, and 2005. A rapid knock-out ended the series in 2008. Hereafter, mostly internet competitions were organised in Dos Hermanas.

Winners of the International Invitation tournament in Dos Hermanas

(no GM tournaments held in 1998, 2000, 2002, 2004, 2006, 2007)

1989 Hodgson (1st edition, from 1989 to 2005 always ten players in a round robin event)

1990 Bass, Hebden (both winning as an IM, Hebden later got the GM title)

1991 Goldin (field of moderate strength in the first three editions)

1992 Yudasin

1993 Karpov

1994 Gelfand

1995 Kamsky, Karpov, Adams

1996 Kramnik, Topalov (3./4. Anand, PCA-World Champion Kasparov failing to win)

1997 Anand, Kramnik

1999 Adams (including Kramnik, Karpov, Korchnoi, Judit Polgar; Anand finishing last)

2001 Dreev, Smirin

2003 Rustemov, Dreev

2005 Radjabov

2008 (Rapid, k.-o. matches) Topalov (14th and last edition, Mini event of four players)

Garry Kasparov: one participation in 1996. Viktor Korchnoi: one participation in 1999.

Judit Polgar was invited in 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1999, six times in a row; and in 2008.

Nine out of the Elo top ten ranked players participated in 1996: Kasparov failed to win!

A fascinating mixed Jubilee supertournament with three former & future WC in 1999:

The 10th and jubilee Torneo Ciudad de Dos Hermanas held from April 5th to April 18th, 1999 was a category XIX event. Ten of the world's best players competed in a round robin format.

Super strong and prominent mixed! Five Top Ten, nine Top Twenty plus one Spanish player.

The participants were (in order of Elo): Viswanathan Anand (2781, no. 2 of the world), Vladimir Kramnik (2751, no. 3), Michael Adams (2716, no. 7), Peter Svidler (2713, no. 9), Anatoly Karpov (2710, no. 10), Veselin Topalov (2700, no.11), Boris Gelfand (2691, no. 14), Judit Polgar (2677, no. 18), Victor Korchnoi (2673, no. 19), and Spanish favourite Miguel Illescas-Cordoba (2585, ranked no. 105-109 in the FIDE Elo rating list).

Originally scheduled as cat. 19 event with shooting star Alexander Morozevich (2723, no. 5) who got ill just before the start of the tournament and had to be replaced by Gelfand as a last-minute substitute. Gelfand thus missed first round, Korchnoi agreed to play that game on the rest day. Gelfand won it.

Viktor Korchnoi (born 1931), aged 68 years and 20 at least to 45 years older than all others, still in the top twenty of the FIDE Elo ranking list, won against Judit Polgar (born 1976), the youngest participant, he lost to Gelfand and Adams, just missing a level score. Spanish hero Illescas-Cordoba did a good job, arrived with a plus score as clearly lowest rated player in the field, and he could beat Karpov who achieved 50%.

Adams, already co-winner at Dos Hermanas in 1995, took clear first in 1999, with 6/9pts., half a point above Kramnik, surpassing three former or future World Champions!

Vishy Anand, the Dos Hermanas tournament title defender from the 1998 tournament and top-seeded but finally tenth and last on tie-break, was the only player without a game win!

The final standings and crosstable are as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	0
01 Adams	*	=	=	=	=	=	1	1	1	=	6.0
02 Kramnik	=	*	1	=	=	=	=	=	=	1	5.5

XIV International Chess Tournament “CIUDAD DE DOS HERMANAS” Dos Hermanas April 17-21 2008 (Rapid, four players)

Veselin Topalov, Alexey Shirov, Judit Polgar, Francisco Vallejo Pons

The XIV Dos Hermanas tournament took place from April 18th-20th April, 2008, in the Teatro Municipal Juan Rodriguez Romero in Dos Hermanas, Spain.

Four players were in the knockout event, with four rapid games played at the rate of 20 minutes + 10 seconds a move. The tiebreaker is blitz games of 5 minutes + 3 seconds followed by a final sudden death game if required.

The final was played between Veselin Topalov and Francisco Vallejo Pons. Topalov won that last edition of Dos Hermanas, played as Rapid in k.o.-format.
